Departmental Seminars and Events

Environmental & Resource Economics Seminar — The next seminar will be held on Monday, November 2 with guest speaker Helio Mattar, President and CEO, Akatu Institute for Conscious Consumption, San Paulo, Brazil. He will discuss "The Role of Consumers in the Sustainability Equation." Location: R380 Learning & Environmental Sciences Building, Institute on the Environment Seminar Room. (St. Paul campus) Time: Noon-1:00 pm. (Note Location Change)

Job Placement Workshop — The Job Placement Workshop will meet on Nov. 5 at 12:00-1:00 pm in 230 Ruttan Hall. This workshop is designed for Ph.D. students who are actively seeking jobs during the 2015-2016 cycle of the job market. On Nov. 5, three guest speakers (Sarah Humpage, Jason Kerwin and Steve Miller) will answer questions about their recent job market experience. If you have questions about the workshop, please contact Pamm Smith.

Seminars in other Departments

Minnesota Population Center — Sanyu Mojola of the Department of Sociology at the University of Colorado, Boulder will speak on "Love, Money, and HIV: Revisiting Education, Wealth and Fundamental Cause Theory" on Monday, November 2, 12:15-1:15 pm in the MPC Seminar Room-50 Willey Hall.

Calendar

October 30
• Happy Hour in Waite Library @ 4:30 pm

November 2
• Environmental & Resource Economics Seminar, Helio Mattar, Noon, R380 Learning & Env. Sciences Bldg.

November 13
• Trade & Development Seminar, Anusha Nath, Adjunct Assistant Professor, Economics, U of MN, 10:30, 119 Ruttan

Opportunities

Minnesota Population Center Data Training Workshop — TODAY — The next Free Data Training Workshop is TODAY from 12:30-2:30 pm in 440 Blegen Hall. Data: NHGIS (National Historical Geographic Information System) provides free online access to summary statistics and GIS boundary files for U.S. censuses and other nationwide surveys from 1790 to the present. Join us to learn how to extract and analyze data from NHGIS. Registration required.
Registration Open — Registration is now open for the Climate Adaptation Conference: Transforming Awareness into Action, January 28, 2016. This year's conference is designed for local officials, planners, engineers, natural resource practitioners and others who want to learn more about adaptation strategies that have worked or are being tested at various sectors, tribal communities, energy, local foods, emergency management, communication and water resources.

We will learn from several major corporations how they are addressing climate adaptation at the morning plenary session and will have a mayors panel at lunch to hear from several community decision makers.

New this year is a tools cafe, where you can learn about various tools that are available to communities, as well as a poster session. Please click here to register for this conference!

Departmental Publications

Jobs

Assistant Professor (2) — Colorado State University's Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics centers its research, teaching and outreach activities in defined areas of excellence: agricultural education, agribusiness management and finance, livestock systems, consumer choice and the economics of water, land and the environment, and these new hires add depth and breadth to these existing programs. More information is available at: http://dare.agsci.colostate.edu/dare-open-positions/

Assistant Professor of Agricultural and Resource Economics, Specialization in Energy Economics, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, Colorado State University. Initial responsibilities are weighted 50% research, 40% teaching, and 10% service. For full job description and application instructions see http://jobs.colostate.edu/postings/18701. Applications received by November 15, 2015 are guaranteed full consideration.

Assistant Professor of Agricultural and Resource Economics, Specialization in Economics of Animal Agriculture, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, Colorado State University. The initial appointment will have responsibilities weighted approximately 40% teaching, 40% research, and 20% outreach and service. For full job description and application instructions see: http://jobs.colostate.edu/postings/18560. Applications received by December 15, 2015 are guaranteed full consideration.

Assistant Professor — The Economics department at the College of Wooster invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in Macroeconomics, Economic Development and International Economics beginning Fall 2016. We seek candidates that will inspire excellence in undergraduate economics research in a liberal arts context. Recent PhD's and ABD's with compelling evidence of teaching excellence are preferred.

Wooster is the US's premier college for mentored undergraduate research known for teaching excellence. The economics department seeks to learn about complex questions from a diversity of economic perspectives. The successful candidate will be naturally inclined to offer innovative contributions to the department's core curriculum, the interdisciplinary program in Global and International Studies, and the College's First Year Seminar Program.
The successful candidate will teach core courses in the department regularly especially, Intermediate Macroeconomics, Economic Development and International Economics. We will also consider teaching and research interests in Economic History, Political Economy and Comparative Economic Systems.

Review of applications will begin November 15, 2015, with a final deadline December 15, 2015. Unofficial transcripts are acceptable. Questions should be directed to the Search Chair, Amyaz A. Moledina, amoledina@wooster.edu. Please apply here https://goo.gl/WrXw3j (Amyaz is an ApEc alum)

To ensure continued delivery, add ejc@umn.edu to your safe senders list or address book.

This email was sent by the Department of Applied Economics at the University of Minnesota, 1994 Buford Avenue, St. Paul, MN, 55108. To stop receiving this email communication, reply to this message, making sure to include the original message, and use "unsubscribe me" as the subject line.

©2015 Regents of the University of Minnesota. All rights reserved. The University of Minnesota is an equal opportunity educator and employer.